

Six Questions to Ask Yourself When You Don't Know Where to Start Organizing

A printable worksheet designed to help you learn how to begin your organizing journey--one question at a time.

THE 'I DON'T KNOW WHERE TO START!'

ORGANIZING WORKSHEET

You want to get organized but maybe you don't know where to start. Answering the questions in the boxes below will help move that feeling of overwhelm out of your brain and motivate you to take the first of many steps towards reaching your organizing goals.

WHAT DO YOU WANT TO ORGANIZE?

What space is causing you grief?

WHY DO YOU WANT TO ORGANIZE IT?

Your 'Why' will motivate you to stay on track.

WHAT IS YOUR VISION FOR THE SPACE?

What would you like it to look and feel like?

HOW SHOULD THE SPACE FUNCTION?

Think about your daily/weekly needs.

WHEN ARE YOU MOST ENERGETIC?

Are you a morning person? Night owl?

HOW MUCH TIME CAN YOU GIVE?

An hour a week? Only evenings or weekends?

NOW YOU'RE READY TO START ORGANIZING!

Take the answers you wrote to the questions above and schedule time on your calendar to begin the organizing process. Start with a small and easy category or area to start decluttering and keep this worksheet handy--it will remind you of your 'WHY' and your VISION and offer you the jumpstart you need to organize your home and life.
